

Open Positions

School of Social Innovation

Project Description

In the School of Social Innovation, people from different backgrounds come together, learn, and use innovative methods for solving specific social problems that they care about.

The project is aimed at doing good, while at the same time giving those involved an opportunity to learn practical methods to use in real-world projects.

Learn more about the project by visiting the current project website, or seeing the project presentation.

Project Manager, part-time

We are looking for a pro-active and dynamic student for the role of Project Manager. He or she must be able to understand and integrate into the project quickly, work in a fast-pace, manage time and risks well and in general make great things happen.

The main responsibility will be to coordinate the project and make sure all the details are taken care of. The goal is a successful project, from an organizing perspective.

You must be able to start immediately, and work part-time on the project for the next 2 months.

The position is unpaid, as the project does not have a budget in this phase.

This is a great opportunity to practice your project management and event organizing competences, in a meaningful project, surrounded by passionate, dedicated people like yourself!

Media Team player, part-time: Web Design, Graphic Design, Video, Interactivity

We are looking for skilled students to join the project Media Team.

The Media Team's responsibilities will be:

- designing and producing a website that promotes, informs about and supports the project,
- recording the project in photos and videos, and putting up the content on the website
- helping to organize the design workshops for the project

You must be able to start immediately, and work part-time on the project for the next 2 months.

The positions are unpaid, as the project does not have a budget in this phase.

This is a great opportunity to practice and develop your design and media production skills, in a meaningful project, surrounded by passionate, dedicated people like yourself! You will also take part in the design workshops, and have design guidance available throughout the project.

Join Us!

To take part in the project, send an email to stauciuc@gmail.com, or paul@jollydragon.net and very shortly write about

- your background,
- your time availability
- why you're interested in the project